Ezekiel Prophet to the Exiles

Six centuries before Christ, the time faced a crisis of unimaginable urgency: the Temple—their only strong evidence for the existence of God—had been destroyed by the Gentiles. Worse, God had not intervened—as though God himself had died. Could God exist among the Gentiles? For answers to these questions and more, please join MNBLS part lecture series on the religious establishment in Palestine. He received his M.Div. from Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology, in Brookline, Massachusetts and holds advanced degrees including a Th.M. from Harvard Divinity School and a Ph.D. in Old Testament from Yale University. Fr. Harry has taught courses in Biblical Hebrew at Yale Divinity School as well as courses in Old Testament at Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology. As an ordained presbyter of the Orthodox Church, Fr. Harry has served parish communities in New York, Connecticut, Tennessee and most recently, Minnesota.

Fr. Paul Tarazi

The Very Rev. Dr. Paul Nadim Tarazi, Th.D., is Professor of Old Testament at St. Vladimir's Theological Seminary, Crestwood, NY, where he teaches Old and New Testament and Biblical Hebrew. He also teaches at Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology in Brookline, Massachusetts and at St. John of Damascus Institute in Balamand, Lebanon. His publications include commentaries on 1 Thessalonians and Galatians, a three-volume Introduction to the Old Testament, and many scholarly articles. He is currently working on the final two volumes of his four volume Introduction to the New Testament, after which he will continue his biblical commentary series. Fr. Tarazi travels widely to speak about Scripture and related topics and has represented the Orthodox Church at ecumenical gatherings. He is known for his dynamic speaking style and his ability to hold an audience's interest while explaining complex matters of Scriptural interpretation in lay terms. His books have been praised for their ability to explain the latest results of specialized scholarly studies—as well as Fr. Tarazi's own original research—in terms understandable to the general public.

These sessions are a not-for-profit ministry of St. Elizabeth Orthodox Mission. All fees are used to cover costs associated with the lectures. The fee for registration is $30. For more information, please email registration@mnbcls.org or contact St. Elizabeth Orthodox Mission at (651) 204-2108.
